

Rebus

Seals

Introduction

Seals have long held a fascination for art historians, geologists, connoisseurs and collectors, not only for aesthetic appeal but also for the great amount of information they contain. It is our link to an ancient past and a symbol of pride in a continuing family heritage. Although they occur in many different cultures they are united in that they are all 'Works of Art' in miniature, exquisite in form, jewels within their own right.

Welcome to Rebus Seals

Why Rebus?

For the finest traditional or contemporary engraved signet ring, Rebus offers the complete service. Each handcrafted ring is uniquely packaged with two sticks of sealing wax and the impression displayed together in our distinctive black and gold presentation cases. The Rebus range of rings is of the highest quality and will be a truly prized possession that will be treasured for generations.

Seal engraving, otherwise known as 'Intaglio' is an ancient craft executed by tools that have remained unchanged for hundreds of years. Having a sound understanding of heraldic law our team will carve your coat of arms, crest or clan badge, in reverse, onto your desired ring, thus creating a negative, from which we then create a positive three-dimensional impression in a wax seal.

Beginning with research of a family crest through to an engraved and fully finished ring, Rebus offers the highest quality bespoke service. Each ring will have hand struck hallmarks, giving you total quality assurance.

The Rebus Signet Range

The Rebus range of signet rings are die stamped and then handcrafted by our in house jeweller. All our signet rings have deep tables and are hallmarked at the London Assay Office, giving you total quality assurance. These signet rings represent the finest of the signet makers' craft and will become a prized possession that will be treasured for generations. All available in silver and 9ct, 14ct and 18ct yellow, rose & white gold and platinum.
